Mr. Gedge-Of course, your Worship, my argument is shortly this, that this witness will go out of court and make up a story with the other witnesses . If, after the evidence is given, the cross-examination is taken piecemeal the whole object of cross examination is burked That is shortly and pithily my argument, and ask your Worship to allow me to cross-examine shortly-I am not going to take up the whole day-as to the contents of the shop and as to the clothes and goods that were in it, partioularly a box of silk which is alleged to have been barnt on the first floor. Your Worship must see yourself that this man and the last witness will go out and make up a beautiful story, which it will be very difficult to upent. If we can we them and catch them in small details one by ou as the evidence is given we may be able to flu out the mative for the fire. His Worship-You talk of cross-examination there has been no pross-examination at all.

have said, and I tried to explain matters to you. In the course of the cross-examination I told you at once that I cannot allow the questions at this stage, and I should have been glad if you had let the matter rest there. The responsibilit of the inquiry rests with the Magistrate, and is for him to say what he shall allow or allow. When I told you during the inquithat I did not wish any questions usked wit regard to the property, I should have been glad if you had rested satisfied. Any distrivantage there may arise from the parties going out of court and conferring together must be laid to you and not to myself. I cannot be responsible for what takes place outside this Court. I will now Bremen Fire Insurance Company, in which the adjourn the enquity until Feiday, 16th, August at three o'clock.
